

Current challenges for UK immigration lawyers

Date: Thursday 18 September 2008
Time: 1 pm – 4.15pm (3 CPD hours)
Venue: Central London venue

ILPA course booking code: DT 1088

Speakers

Leading UK business immigration lawyers including ILPA representatives on the UK Border Agency/ILPA Working Group on the Points Based-System:

Sophie Barrett-Brown	Laura Devine Solicitors, Chair of ILPA;
Hilary Belchak	Kingsley Napley Solicitors
Julia Onslow-Cole	PricewaterhouseCoopers Legal LLP, ILPA Executive Committee

Programme

Timed to coincide with the Law Society/Union International des Avocats (UIA) international conference on Immigration Compliance to be held in London on the evening of 18 September and all day 19 September, this training session from the Immigration Law Practitioners' Association, the UK's specialist professional association for those practising in immigration law, will complement the UIA/Law Society programme by offering an in-depth focus on UK immigration law. Participants will receive in advance a basic introduction to the UK system, so those from abroad should have no hesitation in joining us, as they will be able to follow the seminar.

- The burning questions for today A review of the live issues arising out of the Points-Based system, including for employers and employees, for the highly skilled for Intra-Company Transferees, for investors and those setting up business in the UK and what lawyers are doing in response
- The rocky road to UK citizenship The main challenges for workers and businesspeople who wish to become resident in the UK and acquire citizenship here
- What the future holds ILPA experts tell us what we can expect from the next six months - the going live of Tier 2 of the Points-Based system whereby registered employers bring sponsored workers to the UK, of Tier 5 covering temporary workers and youth mobility and from the proposed new immigration legislation.
- Your questions answered The expert panel will lead a discussion on a combination of questions sent in by participants in advance (email info@ilpa.org.uk) or asked by participants from the floor.
